STATEMENTS OF WYER & CAMMETT,

SURVIVORS OF THE CREW OF BRIG ALNA.

Eleazer Wyer, jr. and Samuel Cammett, both of Portland, survivors of the crew of brig Alna, wrecked on the Florida coast, have arrived at Portland. While in Boston, they communicated to the editor of the Evening Mercantile Journal the following additional and interesting details of their shipwreck and attack by the Indians, and their narrow escape.

Statement of Wyer.

The first Indians which appeared nigh our tent were four in number. They were armed with rifles. The mate was packing his clothes in his chest, which he had been drying that day; and the first notice we had of the Indians, was the smart crack of a rifle, and at the same instant the mate exclaimed, "O dear!" having received the ball in his hand, passing into the abdomen, as we supposed. The same Indian being behind a tree, re-loaded and marked me for his next object. Myself, Cammett and captain Thomas crouched down, which gave me the ball through the hand, passing up laterally thro' the thigh, coming out just below the hip joint, making a journey through the flesh of eight or nine inches. We then took to the beach, (it being warm we were barefooted,) and they pursued us. Capt. T. having taken a long walk with Cammett, was tired, and gave out. We halted, being thirty yards ahead of him, to see what his fate might be. I saw him shot, the ball whizzing by me, and he fell on his face and seemed to die instantly. After this, we expected no quarters if overtaken. I felt approaching weakness from loss of blood, and feared I must soon give up. We very soon entered the bushes, Cammett going ahead. I soon lost him. I made my way along till night, among the palmettoes, which cut my feet cruelly; added to this, were musquetoes, which were a formidable foe. At dark on Sunday night, I came out on the beach, and travelled till near day-light. Finding my wounds bleeding profusely, I tore off the bottom of my flannel shirt, and bound them up, but they continued to bleed all the next day. I laid down and sometimes fell down, never thinking I should not be able to rise again. My fears were increased, from the trail of blood which I left behind, knowing this to be a good mark for the Indians.

Monday I continued to travel the beach, went to the river running parallel with the sea, for water, ate nothing that day, came to New river, waded in to my neck, and swam off, finding the current setting from both shores to the centre, making it very doubtful to me, from the long time I was there, whether I could ever reach the opposite shore. Here I was about to despair. I finally got foot hold, and gained the shore, but found myself very much exhausted. I should think the river was a quarter of a mile wide. It was about night. I kept on occasionally would lie down during the night, gathering the sea-weed to cover me, while asleep. When I awoke, would go again till weary, and then take a nap.

Tuesday morning, fair weather. Saw a house ahead, which proved to be the Peterson house, as I was told by the wreckers. It is a one story frame house, and has a long time been vacated. I hoped here to find something to satisfy my hunger, but was disappointed. Here was another river to swim; for the first time, I saw two large alligators, and the river was full of sharks of the largest size; but I was divested of fear and in I plunged and landed safe on the other side, feeling no enemy to be worse than the Indians. I travelled on, but my feet were very sore. Often I would climb a tree, to see if any danger was at hand, and hoping to see marks of civilization to encourage me in my lonely journey. This day I ate nothing, swam and forded several small streams and creeks, which was very painful in my wounded situation.

Wednesday morning came with fair weather, continued my journey as the days previous, climbed a tree, and found a huge snake had ascended before me, and lay out on one of the limbs, coiled up as if asleep. I was well armed with a club, but took good care not arouse him. His size round was about the size of my ancle. I had been without food three days and nights, and was very hungry. I hoped to find something to eat among the wrecked matter that had washed up to the shore, but found nothing but dead fish, and it was a hard scramble to know whether I or the Pelican and other birds should be served first, as they exist in acres, and so numerous that fish are all taken up before they get cold. A dead fish was a great luxury, and when I had satiated my appetite, I would put some in my hat, to dry, while journeying on. An hour or two before sun set, saw some sail that did not appear to notice me; soon after, I [illegible] were in pursuit of a Dutch brig. As I have before written, I hoisted my shirt on a pole and waved it with all my strength. They discovered me, and happy was I to be rescued from the many perils I had encountered. Indians, Aligators, Sharks, Moccasin Snakes, Crabs, and various other reptiles, were foes in my way, but thank God I have been spared to return to my friends, and tell my perilous tale. My everlasting gratitude is due to Capt. George Alden and crew, of New York, master of the wrecking sloop Mount Vernon, who dressed my wounds, and treated me with unusual kindness.

ELEAZER WYER, Jr.

Statement of Cammett.

My story in regard to the shipwreck of the Alna and being surprised by the Indians on the coast of Florida, cannot be otherwise than the same as Wyer's, until we entered the bushes, when we unfortunately got separated. I remained quiet in concealment until dusk (Sunday evening) then I thought it prudent to start. [illegible] the beach to the bushes to see if their trail continued took care to use the [illegible] to deceive them. I got [illegible] the beach five or six miles and encountered [illegible] Indians, [illegible] and [illegible] and passed [illegible]. I ran into a [illegible] the mud and water here about [illegible] two Indians remained [illegible] [illegible] avoided the water, [illegible] for they should get [illegible] the three were refuling [illegible] that every ripple of [illegible] and [illegible] have been [illegible] old [illegible] I was [illegible] to know [illegible] I was [illegible] know how to pass them. The palmettos were like shark's teeth, and [illegible] a noise in getting through. I was then on the border of the river [illegible] finally thought I would wade up to my neck, that no trace of me could be seen. Got by in safety, lost their tracks, and began to feel as if I was delivered.

Monday still on the river, with trees and bushes growing to the edge. I was obliged to travel in the water, and occasionally swim round. Came to a place which I took to be two rivers that intersected this. I swam over, and found it to be an island covered with water, and the roots of the trees starting out two or three feet above ground, making a sort of bridge [illegible] on. Tasted the water and found it fresh, stopped and rested. A severe current on both sides, seeing a number of sharks, I made a raft of drift wood, but it was water logged, and would not support me; abandoned it, took a lot of drift wood, but could hardly keep it under me, the force of the current being so severe. Reached the shore in safety, there I found the sea shore, and kept on till 12 o'clock Monday night. My feet were deeply cut with shells and palmettoes, and ancles so swollen, I could not bend them; my toes ran on between, and exactly sure.

Tuesday and Wednesday swam several streams. I suffered with the intense heat—had no hat, and was obliged to wet my head to keep cool. Found a tar bucket to carry water in, slept on board a wreck with running out quarter deck left, my neck so swollen with musquito bites that I could scarcely move my head. Ate six dead fish Tuesday and eight Wednesday. Wednesday afternoon crawled into a large log, the hole being too short to admit six feet one, I took a barrel up from the shore to make out the length, had a good nap, waking, I felt something under my chin, gave it a brush off, was stung at that instant with a centipede. I got up, looked out and saw four sloops making up the shore, wind light. I anxiously kept along with them, but they did not see me, no sleep that night.

At daylight saw them standing in for the shore. I seized my tar bucket to a long pole with my knife lanyard, and hoisted it as a signal of distress, they saw it and to my unutterable joy, I was taken on board the wrecking sloop Mount Vernon, where I found my lost friend, Wyer, who to my astonishment called my name from over the side of the vessel. Thus ended my cruel adventure, and not till then was I fully sensible of my soreness. Under the blessing of God I have been saved to return to my friends in perfect health, and those who read my letter can judge of my hairbreadth escapes.

S. CAMMETT.

☞ It is our humane and highly pleasing duty to say of Capt. Geo. Alden and his crew of the wrecking sloop Mount Vernon, that our treatment was in the highest degree kind, hospitable, [illegible] us with parental kindness, giving us clothing, regretting when we left, that they had no money to give us, and all of us feeling as if attached with the strongest ties of friendship. On board of the Index they were equally hospitable. On board the revenue Cutter Madison, Capt. Howard, (our old friend and acquaintance) gave us a feeling reception and the most cordial welcome.

To correct wrong impressions and wicked prejudices that exist against the wreckers on the coast of Florida, we feel bound by every thing sacred to state, that instead of being "plunderers and pirates," as they are often represented, it is the height of their ambition to save lives and property.

S. CAMMETT,
E. WYER, Jr.

THE POTATO CROP. It was feared by many in the early part of September, that the potato crop would be short, owing to the drouth. We suspect, however, that there was little cause for it, as potatoes are now abundant, and selling at fair prices. The cry of "short crop," induced speculators from abroad to buy largely, and the consequence was that our farmers, whilst the excitement lasted, were able to command high prices. In the first part of the month 37 1-2 to 40 cents were paid. They are worth now only about 30 cents. The price currents of the southern markets quote northern potatoes at 40 a 42 cents, and plenty.

SLEEPING CARS. The Baltimore American observes that sleeping cars will soon be placed upon the rail road between that city and Philadelphia, so that passengers leaving in the 7 o'clock train may go to sleep and not be disturbed till morning. This is a decided improvement. The next time we go that way we mean to take a snooze, and see how we like it. Every thing goes by steam now-a days.

The New-Orleans Picayune states that the U. S. schooner Grampus, Lt. Com. J. S. Paine, came very near being wrecked during the late severe weather in the gulf. She endured a series of protracted gales, blowing on shore, from the 5th to the 13th ult. while between T[illegible] and Matamoras, and in a few hours she would have been aground, when fortunately the wind changed.

NATIVE PEARLS. A pearl has been shown in New-York, taken from an oyster bed in the river Delaware, weighing 5 5 16 carats, which would be worth in England $140. Several smaller ones have been found in the same bed.

It is now stated that Chapman, and not Engle, is elected Delegate to Congress from Iowa Territory, and that the election did not turn on the political opinions of the candidates. Some of the Loco Foco papers claimed the election of Engle as a "democratic" triumph. They must whistle it "back agin" now.

STREET COMMISSIONER. William P. Wingate was chosen Street Commissioner, by the City Council, last evening, in place of Richard Condon, resigned.

SMITH'S GEOGRAPHY AND ATLAS. This work we should judge to be a very valuable one, and we believe it is generally considered so by instructors, from the fact that it is rapidly taking the place other Geographies in our schools. The work is very judiciously arranged, and is well adapted to the youthful mind, leading it gradually from one subject to another, and preserving through the whole an interesting and intimate connexion. The work is spoken of in the highest terms by persons throughout the country. The following notice of it from the Aurora Standard is just:

"It is peculiarly gratifying to witness the march of improvement which characterizes this age. Every day developes something new under the sun, by way of improvement. When these improvements tend directly to facilitate the education of our youth, we are led doubly to admire the genius of the individual who originates them. A work of which the above is the title, is before us, and from an examination, we believe it to be the best treatise upon geography extant. It is only upon the "productive system", being suited to the capacity of the young beginner, and calculated to lead the mind on to a thorough knowledge of this important branch of science. It has been a serious defect in most authors who have supplied the country with school books, that they overlooked the capacities of a majority of those whom they would serve. The author, in getting up this work, seems to have been aware of this defect, and has provided a remedy.

The Geography is accompanied with an Atlas which is also an improvement. The maps are correctly engraved and richly colored. They also contain much information, which is useful and interesting to the pupil. They exhibit very clearly the population of countries, the barbarous, the civilized and enlightened, the length of rivers, and the distance which they are navigable for ships, steamboats, sloops, &c. &c. This work, as it deserves, is already becoming very popular, and we hope it will be introduced into all our schools and academies as soon as practicable."

THE KNICKERBOCKER for October. This welcome visitor has come to hand at last, and well sustains the high character of its previous numbers. The editor's table is well filled, and among the contributors to the present number we notice the names of Chief Justice Mellen, G. W. Simms, R. Grant, &c. E. F. Duren is Agent for this Magazine.

GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA. Contested Election.—It having been determined by the friends of Gov. RITNER to contest the election of Gen. Porter, it becomes important to enquire into the manner of conducting such inquiry and the consequences of it. We find on examining the provisions of the new constitution, which goes into force on the 1st of January next that the returns are to be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government, directed to the Speaker of the Senate. If the election be contested, it shall be determined by a committee to be selected from both houses of the Legislature, and formed and regulated in such manner as shall be directed by law. What are the regulations prescribed by law, we do not know if there be any. The constitution further proves "that if the trial of a contested election shall continue longer than the third Monday of January next ensuing the election of governor, the governor of last year, shall continue therein until the determination of such contested election, and until a governor shall be duly qualified." It will be seen that in the event of a disagreement between the two houses, as to the legality of the election of Gen. Porter, Gov. Ritner will continue to act as governor till the question is settled. Balt. Chron.

ECLIPSES. The ancients had terrible fears of Eclipses; supposing them presages of some dreadful events. Plutarch assures us, that in Rome it was not allowed to talk publicly of any natural causes of Eclipses; the popular opinion running so strongly in favor of their supernatural production, at least those of the Moon; for as to those of the Sun, they had concluded that they were caused by the interposition of the Moon, but were at a loss for a body to interpose between us and the Moon, which they thought must be the way, if the Eclipses of the Moon were produced by natural causes. They therefore made a great noise with brazen instruments, and set up loud shouts during the eclipses of the Moon. Ovid attributed the eclipses of the Moon to the arts of magicians, who, by their enchantments, plucked her out of heaven, and [illegible] over the grass.

[illegible] Eclipses, and [illegible] their [illegible] beat and shouted [illegible] drawing blood [illegible] wounded by [illegible] in [illegible] quarrel between them.

The Chinese have an idea that Eclipses are occasioned by great dragons, who are ready to devour the Sun and Moon; and therefore, when they perceive an Eclipse, they run [illegible] and [illegible] till they think the monster, terrified by the noise, has gone his way.

[illegible] evil [illegible] entertained of [illegible] ses, have been sometimes of considerable advantage, as was the [illegible] of Columbus. But the most striking circumstance of this kind was the prediction of an Eclipse of the Sun, by Thales, the great father of Astronomy, which happened, according to Mayer's calculation, on the 17th of May, 603 years before Christ, at the moment that Cyaxares, King of the Medes, and Alyattes, King of the Lydians, were preparing for battle, but alarmed at the appearance of the Eclipse, they immediately laid down their arms, and negotiated a peace; and thus, ignorance, which is often so injurious to the happiness of man, may, in this instance, be said to have largely contributed towards it.

ETIQUETTE IN THE WEST. Our Yankee traveller, who saw the live Hoosier, has again written to his mother.

"Western people [illegible] death on etiquette. You can't tell a man here that he lies, as you can down east, without fighting. A few days ago, a man was telling two of his neighbors in my hearing a pretty large story. Says I, stranger, that's a whopper! Says he, "Look there, stranger!" And in the twinkling of an eye, I found myself in the ditch a perfect quadruped, the worse for ware and fare. Upon another occasion, says I to a man I never saw before, as a woman passed him, "that isn't a specimen of your western women, is it?" Says he, "you're afraid of the fever and ague, stranger, aren't you?" "Very much," says I. "Well," replied he, "that lady is my wife, and if you don't apologize in two minutes, by the honor of a gentleman, I swear that these two pistols (that he held cocked in his hands) shall secure you from that disorder entirely, so don't fear, stranger!" So I knelt down and apologized. I admire this western country much; but curse me if I can stand so much etiquette; it always takes me so unawares."

FAMILY VISITOR.

Devoted to Education, Productive Industry, Intelligence, Morals and Christianity.

CYRUS PEARL, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

THE subscriber proposes to publish a paper designed to promote the objects suggested by the above title and caption. Having been kindly received as a stranger or a guest in thousands of families, in the State, he now desires to renew acquaintance, and revive pleasant recollections, and to extend the bounds of social intercourse by Periodical visitation. He craves the privilege of a social fireside reception for the purpose of [illegible] the following:

1. EDUCATION. Its design—Objects—Improvements—Defects and Remedies. We will converse upon the Physical, Intellectual and Moral bearings of this subject, and speak freely of the three strong holds of influence upon it, The Family Circle, the School Room, and the Sanctuary.

2. PRODUCTIVE INDUSTRY. We will talk of its benefits, its necessity, its advantages, and contrive "ways and means," for its advancement, and honorable standing; and endeavor to render it more attractive, and more productive, in the family, the ship and on the farm—on ship-board and on shore.

3. INTELLIGENCE. And on all subjects we can think of which are worthy of attention. We will seek for it in books, in newspapers, and the busy scenes and social intercourse of life. The sciences and the arts, as connected with the common business of life, are full of intelligence; and we must contrive to make them speak out their hidden mysteries, for our mutual benefit, and we will look into the Bible, and see if this does not utter a voice so much in harmony with the revelations of science, as to indicate its origin in the same deep Fountain of Intelligence, where "are hid all the treasures of Wisdom and Knowledge."

4. MORALS AND CHRISTIANITY. These are named together for the plain reason that they ought never to be separated. Neither can well stand alone; but united they not only stand firm as the "everlasting hills," but become a solid foundation on which we may build a noble superstructure that will stand the test of time, and shine in strength and beauty forever; and echo to the sweet music of the "Harps of eternity." We shall need to say very much upon this subject, for it is connected with every thing else. Intelligence, Industry, Education, every thing desirable, dwindles or is robbed of essential attributes, motives and safeguards, when severed from Christian Morality. We will be at liberty to discuss freely all subjects which have a bearing upon this fundamental topic. Whatever deserves attention in the family circle, deserves the notice of a Visitor, whose object is to benefit those who welcome his visits. We will then give no pledges as to what subjects may, or may not, be discussed in our interviews, but if we differ in opinion on any subject, we will endeavor to keep good natured, and not call each other hard names; but rather "seek for peace" and improvement, in the language of love.

While all the interests of society, and all members of the human family will be borne in mind; we shall of necessity, have special regard for three classes, Parents, Children, and Teachers. We shall greet these with peculiar interest, and shall labor to make our visits profitable to all.

While other countries, and distant parts of our own will not be forgotten, we shall wish to converse, with great freedom, of the resources, the institutions, the interests, the responsibilities, and prospects of our own State.

TERMS,

The Family Visitor will be published at Bangor, on a Royal Sheet, [illegible], provided a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained to warrant the undertaking." One Dollar a year in advance. $1 25 in three months or $1 50 after six months. These terms will be strictly regarded.

Letters and communications must be Post Paid, and directed to the subscriber, care of E. F. Duren, Bookseller, near the Post Office, Bangor, who is duly authorized to receive subscriptions and payments for the papers.

The co-operation of SCHOOL TEACHERS is especially solicited in this enterprise. EDITORS desirous of promoting the interests of Common Schools and General Education, are respectfully invited to notice or copy this Prospectus; and all persons to whom it may be sent are desired to make its objects known, and afford such aid as they can in furnishing a list of subscribers, who will pay in advance for the paper. It is desirable that the paper should commence the first of January, but this must depend upon subscribers, and a [illegible] to sustain it.

DR. BRANDRETH'S GENUINE PILLS

Doctor Sangrado's system still Lives in the world, to kill, to kill!

THIS system does indeed live still, and is practised by the very men who laugh at Doctor Sangrado as a visionary fool. The implacable Faculty! Let this truth be impressed upon every mind that all pain and weakness proceed from the presence of morbid, stagnant and corrupt humors IN THE BODY by which the circulation of the blood is impeded, and that the only sensible method is to remove them from the stomach & bowels, then take

Brandreth's Pills, concocted forth
From the pure products of the earth;
They own no altered alloy,
They often save, but never destroy!

BLEEDING ALWAYS IMPROPER,

"For the life of the flesh is in the blood," Levificus, chapter xvii, v. 11. When the properties of BRANDRETH'S VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL PILLS shall have been appreciated, bleeding will no longer be thought of as a remedy for diseases for in violent inflammations, eight or ten of them will extract in the course of two or three hours, more of the impure humors from the body, by the stomach and bowels, than bleeding to the extent of forty ounces could possibly have done; and it should be remembered that the Pills remove ONLY those parts from the blood which were the cause of inflammation; whereas bleeding removes the essential parts also. How great the prostration of all the corporeal powers after a copious bleeding! On the contrary, what agility and strength is felt after a dose of this medicine; the body is indeed lightened of a load. Nothing is equal to ridding the vitiated humors with a vegetable medicine of this kind, which 84 years have proved never to do injury, but always good. Is the pulse too high? A dose of these Pills will bring it down. Is it too low? the same means will increase it to a proper standard. Is it tremulous, showing nervous excitement? the Pills, by soothing the system will allay it.

Thousands of the most respectable citizens of the United States will be referred to with pleasure by Dr. B. who have for many years been in the habit of being bled as often as four times in a year; and whose constitutions in consequence were becoming weaker and weaker, but who, since they have made use of these Pills, have never lost a drop of their precious blood. When any of their old symptoms appeared, instead of running to a Doctor and having a vein opened, they have swallowed six or eight Pills, which soon removed the vitiated humors that were impeding the blood in its circulation. Those sensible people, simply by the use of these invaluable Pills, are increasing every day the powers both of body and mind, which, by the practice of bleeding, were both becoming dreadfully impaired.

The following cases of cure by the use of Brandreth's Pills, alone, are submitted, with respect, to the unprejudiced portion of the Boston public:

ASTHMA CURED. The following extraordinary case of Asthma, which is authenticated by seventeen respectable and well known inhabitants of Greenwich, Ct., deserves, by all persons, a careful perusal. The most prejudiced must own that evidence is on the side of these Pills, which, by the cures they are daily making show there is no necessity for any other medicine.

This is to certify that Thomas S. Brown of Greenwich, Ct., was taken with a cold, numb feeling, on the 13th of June last. He began to cough and raise phlegm and in the course of twenty-four hours about two quarts of thick white jelly was expectorated. Three physicians in Stamford, Greenwich, and Sawpits, pronounced it a nervous humid spasmodic Asthma, and after prescribing for some time to no effect, the three consulted together, and finally declared that they could do him no good; it would and must result in consumption, and death would ensue; and that in a very short time. The pain was excessive in all parts of his body, and the difficulty in breathing was such as almost to cause strangulation. He was reduced to a mere skeleton, and finally gave himself up to death. After being in this miserable state nearly two months, he saw an advertisement of Dr. Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, and immediately sent by Capt. J. Waring of Greenwich, for a box, and found relief in the course of a few days, which encouraged him to persevere, and now, having taken them for about four months according to the direction, is entirely recovered, and so far as we can judge, in consequence of taking the above Pills, which we have also used in our families, and have found them invaluable.

Signed, Greenwich, 22d Feb. 1836.

James R. Meas, Daniel S. Betts, John H. Reynold, A. Palmer, Rev. R. Palmer, J. R. Palmer, H. Brewsley, S. Jessup, James Moore, Hannah Hitchcock, J. Mean, Thos Bertram, Isaac Olmstead, P. V. T. Jessup, Stephen Waring, John Limbry.

Certificate of John Goulden, who has known the above pills forty years:

I hereby certify, that I have known Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pill for upwards of forty years they were used by my family connections, in the county of Dorset, England, since the year 1796, many of whom they cured of old standing complaints. JOSEPH GOULDEN.

Bridgeport, Feb. 18, 1836.

Certificate of cure of CHOLICS, FITS, &c. &c. From a BOSTONIAN, whose address is at the foot.

[TRUE COPY.]

To Dr Benj. Brandreth:

My dear Sir. I write a few lines to inform you that I have been making use of your Vegetable Universal Pills. I have been afflicted with a complaint supposed to be caused by PAINT. I was subject to a great coldness through my whole system attended with frequent pain and severe cholics; for the year, I have also been subject to fits which would seize me in the night, and when I have come to myself, I have been as weak as a child. I am ready to state the facts more particularly, and how the medicine acted upon me, at my residence, No. 17 Sudbury street, to any one who wishes to inquire.

I feel the medicine has been of very great service and that the diseases under which I labored have been by it ENTIRELY REMOVED, for which I shall ever feel grateful to Providence and to you.

Believe me to remain,
Very respectfully,
JOHN LUMMUS,
Boston 17 Sudbury street.

GENUINE BUFFALO OIL.

THE HAIR! THE HAIR! THE HAIR!

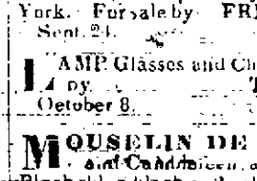
THE greatest ornament to the human body is a splendid head of hair. It has recently been discovered that the genuine Buffalo's Oil is a sovereign remedy for baldness, prevents the hair from coming off, promotes the growth, continues the luxuriance and improves the beauty. It is far superior to any other animal or vegetable oil, and in case of fever, where the hair becomes dry and begins to fall off, there is no application more effectual in restoring its beauty and rendering it in a healthy state.

It is put up at a low price, (37 1-2 cents) that all classes can have access to it. None genuine unless put up in six bottles, with HAIR OIL impressed in the glass. Also, to prevent imposition, it will be signed by the Proprietor, Wm Brown, 491 Washington, corner of Eliot Street, Boston.

For sale in Bangor by G. W. Holden, and Whittier & Guild. In Portland by J. Durgin & Co. and Wm W. Lincoln, and by most of the wholesale D[illegible] oct 24 1838.

TO LOVERS OF COMFORT AND EASE.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!



Why will you suffer with the TOOTH-ACHE, when there is a perfect remedy?

BROWN'S EXTRACT OF GALL AND KREOSOTE will cure the Tooth-ache; also remove all unpleasant smell from the breath. From experience we can justify in this fact. J. A. Dill, 413 Washington Street, Miss Mary Savoy, Pleasant street, N. Tolman, 381 Washington Street, George Melvill, Lucas Place, Fitz Henry Stephens, master of transportation cars on Worcester railroad, and thousands of other references can be made. It removes all soreness, and frequently prepares them to be filled. It is considered by the inhabitants of Massachusetts, particularly in the city of Boston, where it is best known, and where the fortunate inventor resides, one of the greatest comforts to mankind that was ever discovered. It will remove the tooth-ache pain, the Tooth-ache. Be particular to ask for Brown's Extract of Gall and Kreosote, and observe his signature as a security against counterfeits, as there are other articles in market intended to be palmed off for this invaluable preparation. It is now to be found in all the principal towns throughout the United States.
